

shahzad khan

creative direction • ui & ux specialization

www.ckcpark.net

i m person with varied interests and love to be in a contributing space where ideas, concepts & processes are valued as much as the final product.

i m a great listener and love solving problems where ever i can.

what defines me

typography & minimalism

good aesthetics & dynamic ideas

conceptual & abstract

caffeine & redbull

people

i m also an apple fan boy, would love to follow in the footsteps of sir richard branson, and every now and then i jump in and out of philanthropy.

i work with a variety of apps, depending on what i need to accomplish.

i m a mac person, and a big fan
of gesture based touch interfaces.

tools & skills

i m a balanced combination of design &
code skills.

i know design
inside out and code enough to know when the devs are bluffing.

i m also a great choice when it comes to managing people & departments.

testimonials

“ Having worked with Shahzad on both a project and permanent basis, across two companies, I can safely say that he is a class act and a rare talent. He has a great eye for design and usability and is passionate about what he does, to boot. Grade-A new media person!

Zaki Mahomed

Co-Founder & CEO

TimeSvr & Game Ventures

“ Shahzad Khan is a the youngest, most naturally talented artist with whom I've worked. Someone who is not afraid to take chances in fear of rejection, listens to his instinct, takes what others say into consideration in an impersonal fashion, and is persistent in perfecting his work are all qualities of a true artist. Shahzad has all these qualities and a true artist he is!

testimonials

“Agencies get helpless sometimes. The same happened with us in Sep 09’, when our Creative Manager had to leave on a short notice. Overloaded with tons of work, Shahzad Khan proved to be a true savior.

Equipped with the craft that’s much needed in every Creative Hotshop, his speed & superior aesthetic sense pulled us out of an absolute mess within a short contractual span of 3 days.

Hats Off!

Green Man's Ark

Head of New Media Division

June 2013 - Present

Being a digital division of a major advertising agency in Pakistan already gives the company a lot of responsibilities.

My job in this whole mix comes down to making sure a good user experience is served to the user while the branding of the company stays prominent. Execution is more or less my concern.

VentureDive

Senior UI / UX designer

October 2012 - June 2013

Venture Dive already had a good design person on board when I joined, my job was to improve what's already there, and build great new products.

I'm responsible for the user experiences and interfaces, along with co-ordination with the development team to make sure ideas & concepts are executed as intended.

Game Ventures

Creative Director

November 2008 - August 2012

As a Creative Director of a gaming studio my job required that I was not only available at all times, but to make sure the quality of the product did not suffer even at the most stressful times.

I was involved in the making of all the titles released during my time at Game Ventures, including branding, websites & obviously the User interfaces and experiences.

Creative Chaos

Front End developer

November 2007 - August 2008

My role at Creative Chaos was more code oriented than it was to do with designs. I would add visual enhancements wherever necessary, but my primary concerns were to make sure the designs looked stunning regardless of the viewer's platform.

I worked mostly in a combination of HTML + CSS +JS.

Dreams Quest
Senior Web designer
May 2005 - April 2006

Dream Quest was a fairly new start up and my job was to help build websites for small to average businesses.

I was not only responsible for design but also front end development. Along with co-ordinating with the business team.

★ brands I've worked with

I've also been involved in a wide number of freelance projects over the years.
